Even Divas get lonely too. What to do? You are young and gifted. This is the tale of one woman's hunt for the perfect BMW (Black Man Working) only to have her dream come true turn into her worse nightmare when she learns that her new hubby has not disclose to her the fact that he has three children by three different women. What happens when she finds out and they all come to live with her?

Misunderstood as a gold-digger Sheila doesn't believe a marriage can be successful based on love after watching her mom and older sister's failed marriages and love lives with men. Therefore she schemes to get a man making six figures who can help create a business partnership to build a lifestyle based on the American Dream. Her criteria: of course he must be making bank, never married and definitely NO kids ALLOWED!!!

Neal Towers was not your average black man. He was a successful air personality for the number 1 broadcast radio-company in the USA and he was moving up the syndicated radio show list fairly quickly; expecting to have his own syndicated show one day soon. He had a college degree, making big money, never married and he loved beautiful and successful black women. All of his life getting a woman was the easy part and he never gave much thought about family life or having children. So when his high school sweetheart had Junior, it was no big deal; he just stepped up to the plate making sure he handled his financial responsibility. Of course high school puppy love can grow pass© when you're in college and see all of the fresh new meat that you're missing out on; and that's how he met baby momma # 2 Denise his college first love. Graduating from college and landing first an internship at the #1 urban & hip hop station in town was a dream come true so Neal focusing on his career somehow lost touch with Denise and the two of them moved on. Wow, working around the hottest R & B acts in the US was a surreal experience for Neal; the parties, the luxuries and the women was mind blowing to someone who had been born and raised in a working-class and humble life. Neale couldn't get enough of the parties or the women and that's how he met Susan a groupie who followed and traveled around with one of the boy bands that his station sponsored.

Neal meets Shelia and for him it's love at first sight; only she's not interested in having any kids or a man with any. What's a man to do when he's just met his perfect woman but he doesn't quite meet her standards? Is it lying if you fail to disclose certain information? Join Neal and Shelia in this romantic-comedy that asks: What is the most important quality in a marriage? Together they search for common ground and understanding in trying to save their marriage.
